Peddling support through soup for people on streets

One man's bid to help homeless

By Owen Hughes

HOMELESSNESS is becoming an epidemic in the city according to a charity providing free soup to anyone in need on the streets of Oxford.

The Soup Peddler is trying to raise £1,500 for vital equipment and ingredients to continue helping those in need.

The mobile soup kitchen run from the front of a bicycle aims to serve up to 100 people a night with hearty homemade soups.

Richard Brabin, an Oxford-based freelance writer, set up The Soup Peddler in December after reading about the growing number of homeless people across the country.

He said: "I work predominantly in Oxford city centre and I've noticed there seems to be an increasing amount of people having to beg in order to get food.

"I've sent emails to various council members and local politicians, but I thought there must be something more tangible that will actually physically help these people."

Richard makes all the soup at home in the day before cycling to Cornmarket Street at around 7pm where he stays until past 10pm around three evenings per week.

He added: "I get a lot of repeat customers and it's not necessarily just homeless people either.

"We get a lot of people heading back to their homes who are having a tough time economically over the Christmas period and an extra meal here or there really does make a huge difference."

Funding for the project initially came out of Richard's own pocket, but crowdfunding and donations from strangers while he is in the city centre have enabled him to reimburse the money invested.

The overheads for running the soup service cost Richard between £50 and £60 per night, or about £1 per person.

Oxford City Council was one of the first local authorities in England to receive a gold standard award in August last year for its efforts in preventing and tackling homelessness in the city.

But Richard said: "We need to stop thinking of homeless people as lazy or workshy and think of them as people

Tragic mum fulfils her dying wish for her sons

Brave Sam loses fight just days before Christmas

By Samantha McGregor

A MUM-of-two, who led an appeal to raise cash to help look after her sons after being given months to live died just four days before Christmas

Single mum Sam Kyme 34, was diagnosed with aggressive Motor Neurone Disease in April and passed away "peacefully with her family around her" on December 21

Her final wish had been to raise enough money to pay for her sons Joey and Harry to move to Australia to live with her sister Pippa.

The initial target was £15,000 but Sam touched the hearts of the county and within a week people had donated £36 518 To date the appeal has raised £52 944 to secure the boys future

On the JustGiving page, friend Susanna Howard, who helped run the appeal, said: "It is with huge sadness that we have to tell you our beautiful Sam passed away this morning.

"She went peacefully with her family around her

"The family are deeply saddened but also relieved that she is no longer suffering.

"Thank you to everyone for the incredible generosity and support during these difficult and devastating months.

"We know that Sam would like everyone to celebrate her life by raising a glass to her and her family at this festive time

"Sam will always be dancing in the sky with a drink in her hand. We love you Sam."

Sam Kyne with her sister Pippa and brother-in-law Matt when they left for Australia last year – Sam's sons will now live with them

Dozens of people paid tribute to Sam, who lived in Banbury on social networking site Facebook, including Sandra Findlay Wilson, who wrote "So sorry to hear your news, thoughts and prayers for her wonderfully supportive family and friends Rest in peace now precious lady X"

And Natalie Anne said. "So sad. I have no words Such a loving girl. She always made me laugh. You will be deeply missed beautiful. Xxxx"

In her JustGiving appeal, Sam said her greatest fear was not dying, but the "welfare of her boys"

She wanted them to move to Australia with her sister Pippa "to start a new happy life with her family"

Alarm advice after man escaped fire

A MAN had to be cared for by neighbours after escaping a fire in his home

Firefighters were called at 7.30pm on Friday, December 29, to a blaze at a property in Binsey Lane Oxford.

Incident Commander Justin Kamphuis said the property did not have working smoke alarms and the situation could have been "much worse"

The resident "appears" to have been asleep when the fire started, and the Fire Service believe the cause was accidental.

Mr Kamphuis said. "This incident could have been much worse, the resident appears to have been asleep when the fire started and luckily managed to get out of his property just in time

"If the property had been equipped with working smoke alarms the gentleman would have been able to escape much more swiftly and safely"

New trains and new fares for commuters

NEW trains are operating between Oxfordshire and London following electrification works last year

Great Western Railway's electric Electrostar trains which are longer than diesel trains and have more seats have begun operating from Didcot Parkway for the first time

It comes as commuters launched protests over the average increase in rail ticket prices of 3.4 per cent across the UK.

Former council boss honoured

A FORMER council boss has been made an MBE in the Queen's New Year s honours list

Sue Smith, the former joint chief executive of South Northamptonshire and Cherwell District Councils was recognised for her services to local government

Mrs Smith's career in local government began as a recreation assistant at Anglesey Borough Council in 1979

She moved up the ranks across four other councils before leaving her post as chief executive of Harborough District Council in 2011 to become the first joint chief executive of Cherwell District and South Northamptonshire councils

Mrs Smith oversaw the biggest transformation of local government in Cherwell and South Northamptonshire since the 1970s.

She was central to the expansion of the shared services model which cut out duplication between the two councils and saved millions of pounds each year

In Cherwell Mrs Smith presided over the growth of Bicester as an Eco Town and saw it awarded Healthy New Town Status in 2016.

She was also instrumental in the evolution of the Graven Hill development in Bicester, the UK's largest self and custom build development, of which she continues to be chairman.

Sue Smith has been made an MBE, while Hugh Laurie is a CBE

Yvonne Rees the current chief executive for both councils said Mrs Smith's "vision" had left a "lasting legacy" for the council to build on.

Mrs Smith is joined on the honours list by Oxford born actor Hugh Laurie who becomes a CBE.

The 58-year old actor director, comedian and singer already an MBE, was recognised for his services to drama.

Mr Laurie was educated at Dragon School in north Oxford and is best known for his partnership with Stephen Fry as Prince George in Blackadder and latterly for his multi award winning role in US medical drama House

■ Other Oxfordshire residents who received awards included Professor Bernard Silverman, Home Office chief scientific adviser, who was given a knighthood for public service to science

Timothy Rossington, finance director for the Department for Digital, Culture Media and Sport, became a CBE for his public service

Professor of Economic History at the University of Oxford Katherine Humphries was given a CBE for services to social science and economic history

Tolkien's letters from Santa

By Eva Astreinidou

WORLD-RENOWNED author JRR Tolkien may be best known for the Lord of the Rings trilogy, but a new exhibition uncovers a unique insight into his writing and family life.

A range of letters from Father Christmas, written by the author will go on show this year in an exhibition titled Tolkien: Maker of Middle-earth at the University of Oxford's Bodleian Libraries from June 1 to October 28.

Every Christmas Eve, from 1920 to 1943, Tolkien would sit in his study and write a letter to his children from Father Christmas, accompanying them with beautiful illustrations.

The tradition began when his then three-year old son, John, asked who Father Christmas was, and where he lived. Tolkien wrote a reply starting a tradition that would continue for more than two decades.

Catherine McIlwaine, Tolkien archivist at the Bodleian Libraries and the exhibition's curator said: "The Father Christmas letters are some of my favourite items in the exhibition.

"The letters were delivered by the postman, who'd been persuaded by Tolkien to deliver them with the rest of the post, or arrived in the hearth with specially made stamps from the North Pole, marked with the cost of postage '2 kisses'.

"They contained news from the North Pole where Father Christmas lived with his helper' the North Polar Bear, who often got into trouble and caused twice as much work for Father Christmas.

"As the Tolkien children grew older, the letters grew longer and the tales became darker and more thrilling."

In a letter from 1932 goblins make an appearance, living in the caves underneath the North Pole and stealing the childrens' presents from Father Christmas' cellars.

The colourful letters will be on display alongside the largest array of original Tolkien materials from the UK and the USA to go on show since the 1950s.

The exhibition will also explore the range of Tolkien's literary imagination from his creation of Middle-earth, the imagined world where The Lord of the Rings, The Hobbit and his other works are set, to his life and work as an artist, poet, medievalist and scholar of languages.

Woman must pay brother and sister

AN Oxford carer who stole more than £200 000 from her sick mother's bank account has been told to pay back more than half the amount to her brother and sister.

Gillian Bates, 69, of Milford Road in Headington, was given a 15 month sentence in June after pleading guilty to fraud by abuse of position.

Bates was given power of attorney in 2014 when the family moved their mother into a care home for Alzheimer's patients, but siphoned hundreds of thousands from the sale of her mother's house to feed her gambling addiction.

Oxford Crown Court granted a confiscation order in December and Bates was ordered to pay £107 513.80 in compensation to her brother and sister as inheritance.

£2k presents stolen

MORE than £2 000 of presents was stolen from a Jericho home on Christmas Eve.

Police are appealing for witnesses after the stash of wrapped Christmas gifts including children's toys, games, food, clothes, bathroom products and other gifts, were taken.

The incident took place at a property in Walton Street between 1.30am and 7am.

Thieves believed to be carrying five large bags at the time dumped wrapping paper in the street.

No descriptions have been released. Contact police on 101 quoting reference number 43170380491 with any information.

Plans to resettle more Syrian refugee families by end of year

TEN more refugee families could be resettled in Oxford by the end of 2018.

Measures to extend the city's involvement in schemes to help vulnerable people and children from Syria were discussed at a city council meeting at the end of the year.

Members of the council's executive board discussed plans to accommodate more families who are suitable for resettlement.

So far, central government schemes to help vulnerable people and children have made it possible to relocate 20 refugee families in Oxford, which includes 43 adults and 45 children.

Kate Smart, director of Asylum Welcome said: "Oxford people from all walks of life have worked together to welcome [the] refugee families and will do a good job of welcoming 10 more. Grateful to return this kindness, the refugees are working hard to learn English, find jobs and become good neighbours."

The schemes discussed at the meeting include plans to link refugees to local education and health services as well as fund those involved, with a gradual decrease year on year until they are able to achieve independence.

All costs for the scheme have been met through Home Office funding and this will continue to be the case for the life of the scheme.

Leader of Oxford City Council, Councillor Bob Price, said: "I am pleased that we have been able to [help] families who have suffered badly from violence and deprivation.

"We are now in the fortunate position of being able to offer to assist more families who are in need and give them...and their families, a lifeline to live in safety and to receive education and re-establish themselves in jobs."

No loo-sers here as toilets pull in chain of awards

PUBLIC toilets in Oxford have been named some of the best places in the country to spend a penny after the city was flushed with honours at last month's Loo of the Year Awards.

Proving there's nothing bog standard about the city's facilities, a jury awarded Oxford's 18 entries a total of 10 gold and 4 platinum awards, as well as judging the city council to be England's best local authority for toilet provision.

Parks toilets also featured, with Cutteslow winning Parks and Gardens in the leisure category.

The awards aim to encourage the highest possible standards and 2017 was the third successive year Oxford, whose toilets have been classed as 'Champions' League quality', was recognised for its toilets.

Cllr John Tanner, board member for a clean and green Oxford, said: "Over the last few years the council has invested heavily to make the city's public toilets some of the best in the country. This has been reflected in the awards we have won in 2015, 2016 and now 2017. I want to thank the staff who keep the toilets pristine and the public for leaving the toilets as we would hope to find them."

Introduced in 1987, the awards judge entries against criteria that covered both male and female facilities, baby changing, accessibility, space to change and hygiene room facilities.

Salon blows away competition with green award

AN eco salon group capped an outstanding year by adding yet another green accolade to its trophy cabinet.

Oxford-based Anne Veck scooped the Best Environmentally Friendly Business gong at the National Hairdressing Federation's Hair & Beauty Business Awards at the end of last year.

It was the final accolade in a year blessed with a showering of awards.

The green award topped a successful year for the St Clement's Street hairdressers, which also earned Green Salon of the Year at the national Salon Business Awards in July.

The firm, with its Bicester office, also picked up six international awards in September and two national awards in November.

But what has made it such a hit in the eco world?

The salon uses the latest fuel cell technology to reduce energy use by half and electricity usage by 95 per cent.

It has also implemented water saving features, LED energy efficient lighting and made telephone calls and broadband 100 per cent carbon neutral.

A delighted Anne Veck, the owner, said: "As a business, Anne Veck salons have always made eco-friendly initiatives a top priority. To receive recognition for our efforts as an Oxford-based salon group at a national awards ceremony makes us feel proud and encourages us to continue to strive to be even kinder to the environment in the future."

Landlords fined for illegal HMOs

OXFORD City Council has collected more than £30,000 in HMO penalties using new powers introduced in April 2017 that allows the authority to spend the money on housing enforcement.

A total of £31,606 has been collected from the first three city cases since the introduction of new financial penalty powers to help crackdown on rogue landlords.

In the biggest of the three fines, a landlord who owns a rented property on Garsington Road was fined £25,298 for failing to licence it as a house in multiple occupation.

Environmental Health staff found illegally occupied by four tenants in April last year.

The landlord, also convicted in 2015 of a related housing offence was issued a penalty of £7,149 for failing to licence the property as well as an additional £18,149 for four separate fire safety failures.

Other larger fines included Jericho (£5,073.92) and Iffley Road (£1,234) homes. All three landlords cannot be named for legal reasons.

The new financial penalty powers, which came into force 18 months ago, allow local authorities to impose penalties of up to £30,000 as an alternative to prosecution for housing offences. Councils can retain all of the income. Councillor Alex Hollingsworth, responsible for regulatory services, said the new powers will drive up standards in the private housing sector.

Calls for emergency shelters to be open more for homeless

By Eva Astreinidou

A PETITION that has gained the support of more than 5,300 people hopes to keep homeless shelters in Oxford open for every freezing winter night.

Last month, Oxford City Council had to activate its Severe Weather Emergency Protocol (SWEP) for a total of 11 nights, making extra beds available as overnight temperatures were forecast to be below zero.

Now, campaigners are asking for the service, which is only made available if the forecast is low enough for three or more consecutive nights, to be changed.

The online petition reads: "Many of our coldest nights are still to come. As it stands, SWEP is generally invoked only rarely by the city council, usually when the weather forecast is for three consecutive nights below zero. But sometimes it doesn't take three nights to kill someone."

The campaigners added: "We can do a little to ease suffering.

"So let us follow the example of London, where Sadiq Khan has announced the emergency shelters will be opened on every single day with sub-zero temperatures."

who have been failed by the system.

"From what I can tell, homeless shelters appear to be closing, and the only people making any headway are the few people like myself who are taking a vigilante approach and doing what they can.

"I don't see anyone out in a council blazer, so maybe all of their work is being done behind the scenes, but if that is the case then why am I meeting 50, 60 or 70 people every night needing hot food?"

Richard hopes to use homeless people to run the stall in the long-term to "provide an opportunity for them to earn a bit of money and have something practical to do".

To support Richard's mobile soup campaign go to www.justgiving.com/crowdfunding/thesouppeddler.

When SWEP is activated, accommodation is available for anyone who would otherwise be sleeping rough on the night – even if they would not usually meet the criteria for the city's adult homeless pathway, including those not from Oxford.

SWEP can also open on a discretionary basis during other adverse weather conditions.

Councillor Bob Price, city council leader, said: "Although funded by the city council, the SWEP is operated by staff at St Mungo's Outreach, the Porch, O'Hanlon House and Simon House. These employees have agreed to step down from their core duties to carry out the extra hours of work required. Operating the service more frequently, without negatively impacting their core services, would require the organisations to substantially increase their staffing levels. That is not within budget, and to fund it would require additional increases in council tax or cuts to other services."

Aldi sets sights on store at retail park

MARKS & Spencer's loss is Abingdon's gain as German supermarket giant Aldi has agreed a deal for a store at the town's busy retail park.

The supermarket chain wants to open in the Fairacres Retail Park on Marcham Road providing competition for the Tesco Extra opposite.

Abingdon councillor Mike Badcock said the store would "provide a different range of goods" from the nearby Tesco and "will complement the shops" that are on the retail park.

He said: "It will be thoroughly welcomed by everyone in Abingdon.

"People will flock down there and it will be a very useful addition to the suite of shops that are already here."

Mays Properties Ltd had initially secured planning permission for a Marks & Spencer Foodhall but recently found the deal to be no longer commercially viable. An M&S Simply Food is due to open at Didcot's Orchard Centre in the next few months.

They will now seek planning permission from Vale of White Horse District Council to open the slightly larger Aldi after agreeing the deal with the supermarket.

The lot at Fairacres has been empty since Beales a century old department store, ceased trading at the location a year ago due to high rents.

Aldi launched a new store in Cowley in early 2017, almost two years after the store in neighbouring Didcot opened its doors.

A Waitrose to the north of the town also serves Abingdon in addition to the Tesco hypermarket next to the Marcham interchange.

History professor 'a sad loss for Oxford'

By George Welch

A LEADING Oxford University history professor was killed in a motorway pile-up near Banbury two days before Christmas has been remembered as "a warm and loyal friend" with a passion for teaching.

Mark Whittow a medieval historian and archaeologist, died with a 29-year-old man from Warwickshire in the collision involving up to five cars on the M40 just before midnight on December 23.

The 60-year-old was appointed the next Provost, or head, of Oriel College in November – a role he was due to take on from the next academic year.

The college's flag was flown at half-mast following his death as colleagues and academics paid tribute to the Byzantine studies professor.

Prof Martin Conway, the chairman of Oxford's history faculty, said: "The entire Oxford community has been left deeply saddened by Mark's tragic death.

"Mark was an enormous influence on history in Oxford, where his energy and commitment to teaching, research and to the sense of an intellectual community was irrepressible.

"Above all, generations of students researchers and colleagues knew him as a warm and loyal friend who enriched all our lives. We will miss him enormously."

Professor Mark Whittow died in a collision on the M40 on December 23

A man was also taken to hospital with serious leg injuries and three others were treated for minor injuries following the fatal collision between junction 10 Cherwell Valley Services and junction 11.

Dr Whittow was also a fellow of Corpus Christi College and a senior proctor of Oxford University in 2016-17.

A tribute posted by the Bodleian History Faculty Library said. "Desperately sad news of the untimely passing of warm, witty humane scholar Mark Whittow. The place will be that much sadder and poorer for his loss."

Peter Frankopan, a professor of global history at Oxford, tweeted "Heart-breaking news about my best, loveliest & most brilliant friend & colleague who has died over Christmas."

He added: "Oxford could not be sadder or poorer #MarkWhittow was the best. Simple as that."

Contact police on 101 with any information on the crash.

'Disgusting' sign removed after legal action threat

THE owner of a fishery near Bicester has removed a "disgusting" sign which banned Polish and Eastern Bloc fishermen.

Billy Evans who owns Field Farm Fisheries, removed the sign after his family received threats.

It had been in place since 2009 after Mr Evans said he caught people stealing fish.

But after Rado Papiewski, a Polish national, was refused entry to the site in April, he set about forcing a change.

He initially reported it to police but was told it was a civil matter and was advised to bring a private prosecution for breach of the Equality Act.

Last month he set up a Crowd Justice campaign to raise £10 000 to cover the cost of legal action. So far Mr Papiewski has raised £10 740.

He said "I was shocked when I visited this fishery in April and was told by the owner that he won't let me fish as I am from Poland, because all Polish and Eastern European anglers are here to steal from him.

"The fishery owner felt very strongly about this behaviour and hence this disgusting sign.

"I felt very strong about the fact that I am being treated in this way – only because I was born in Poland."

Mr Papiewski runs the Building Bridges project, which aims to integrate fishing communities from continental Europe with local anglers in England.

Store gives the gift of a white Christmas after globe found

By George Welch

EVERY year people across the country wish in vain to wake up on Christmas Day to a blanket of snow – but for one Berinsfield family this magical festive experience came true.

Grandmother Anne Chewings was the envy of her neighbours after having her home transformed into a winter wonderland for free having found a snow globe hidden in TK Maxx's Templars Retail Park store in Oxford.

After finding the ornament while shopping with her daughters Anne, along with her eight grandchildren and other members of the family received an extra special visit from a team of 'snow experts' as per the retailer's Christmas TV advert.

The team transformed her home with equipment usually used in the film industry to install eight cubic metres of real snow perfect for snowball fights, snowmen and a suitably jolly Christmas experience.

Anne, who stumbled upon the exclusive snow globe two weeks before Christmas, said: "I was just over the moon when I found the globe because I'd seen the advert and I wanted it for the grandchildren, and I actually came out with it for the grandchildren.

"This white Christmas experience means everything. It's a memory for the family, especially for the grandchildren to look back on and say 'nan did that for us'."

Anna Chewings with her family at the home in Berinsfield which was transformed into a winter wonderland after the grandmother found the snow globe at TK Maxx's Templars store in Oxford

Deborah Dolce, brand and marketing director at TK Maxx, said: "We wanted to create a real, magical experience for our shoppers this year, something that would be great fun and let everyone across the country join in a snowy version of a golden ticket. We know lots of people dream of a white Christmas and it's a special way to bring friends and family together."

TK Maxx's Christmas advert launched on November 16 and was voiced by Love Actually star Bill Nighy.

Man killed in crash

AN 85 year-old man died following a crash between a car and two lorries.

Police are looking for witnesses following the fatal collision on the A420 near Faringdon on December 21 just before 7am.

As a result of the collision, the driver of the car, an elderly man from Wantage, sustained fatal injuries and died at the scene. Call 101 if you can help.

Teeth lost in attack

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a man lost teeth in an attack in Oxford.

The incident happened in Gulwarks Lane about 3.25am on Saturday December 23.

The two male victims, both in their 20s, were approached by three Asian men and, after an "exchange of words between the two groups", were attacked.

One of the victims was treated at the John Radcliffe after he lost a number of teeth and had swelling and bruising to his head. The other man was punched to the head and suffered minor injuries.

The three men were said to be in their 20s and wearing dark clothing.

Police particularly want to speak to people who may have spoken to the victims while they sat in Boon Square afterwards and anyone coming out of nightclubs as they closed.

Anyone with information should call 101 quoting reference 43170079747.

Two arrested as part of W Midlands terror raid

By Owen Hughes

TWO people from Banbury have been arrested on suspicion of being members of a banned Neo-Nazi group.

A 21-year-old man and a 37 year-old woman from Banbury were among six people arrested by West Midlands Police yesterday in connection with terrorism offences.

The group are being held under section 41 of the Terrorism Act on suspicion of being concerned in the commission preparation and instigation of acts of terrorism.

Namely the suspects have been detained on suspicion of being members of the proscribed far-right organisation National Action.

Five men in their 20s are being held at a police station in the West Midlands, while the only woman arrested is being held at a station outside of the force's area.

The West Midlands Counter Terrorism Unit worked with a team of units from the north west south east and east of England in the operation.

The arrests were pre-planned and intelligence-led but "there was no threat to the public's safety" according to a police statement.

A number of properties are also being searched in connection with the arrests.

National Action became the first extreme right wing group to be banned in the UK in December 2016 after Home Secretary Amber Rudd said it was promoting violence and acts of terrorism.

In addition to the two north Oxfordshire residents arrested, West Midlands Police also arrested a 26-year old from Cambridge, a 28-year old from Wolverhampton, a 26-year-old from Leicester and a 24-year-old from Stockport.

Superfast broadband bonus for businesses

MORE than 95 per cent of Oxfordshire residents and businesses can look forward to a fibre-filled new year according to recent figures.

Superfast broadband coverage is now available across the vast majority of the county with more than half of those reached by the rollout already opting for an upgrade according to the Better Broadband for Oxfordshire (BBfO) partnership.

Oxfordshire County Council and BT Group who spearhead the BBfO partnership have confirmed more than 73,000 households and businesses have signed up for superfast broadband speeds.

Councillor David Bartholomew, cabinet member for finance at Oxfordshire County Council, said reaching the milestone ahead of the government's end-of year deadline was a "terrific achievement".

He added. "[It] shows our commitment to make this important service available to as many parts of Oxfordshire as possible. We're using a combination of technologies and co-funding solutions to ensure residents and businesses in even the smallest most remote parts of our county have access to fast broadband."

Cookley Green, Pyrton, Balscote Baulking and Waterperry were the latest communities to benefit from the upgrade work being carried out by engineers from Openreach.

The remaining 8,500 Oxfordshire premises without superfast broadband can check better broadband oxfordshire.org.uk to see if they are due for an upgrade this year.

The new takeaway at Great Western Park in Didcot is the 13th Churchill's

Chippy fishing for customers

A NEW family-owned fish and chip shop will hope 13 is its lucky number after opening in the heart of an estate last month.

Churchill's Fish and Chips is the 13th to open for the national award-winning chain of restaurants owned by a family run business that dates back to the early 1920s.

Hugh and son James Lipscombe own and operate 41 shops in total across the south serving more than three million meals a year at its fishnchicken, Bankers and Churchill's restaurants.

Customers can avoid queues at the new outlet at Didcot's Great Western Park by using an app or the company's website to pre-order during busy times and collect in-store.

James Lipscombe, managing director at The Chesterford Group said. "We are so excited to be opening in Great Western Park and being an integral part of such a vibrant, growing community.

"Our family has been cooking fish and chips since 1923 and we are as passionate as ever about giving our customers the best possible experience.

"We always strive to evolve and innovate in response to the growing and changing needs of our customers and we look forward to welcoming local residents to experience Churchill's award-winning fish and chips for themselves."

Churchill's hopes to be able to offer a fully Coeliac Society accredited gluten-free menu on certain days of the week later this year.

Peter Andre gets a 'flava' of slimmers' joy at weight loss

By George Welch

A GROUP of Slimming World consultants from Oxfordshire was congratulated on helping slimmers to lose weight and change their lives by singer and TV presenter Peter Andre.

An 11 strong Oxford team had chance to cuddle up to Peter when he presented the annual Slimming World Awards in Birmingham at the end of last year

Louise Preece, who runs sessions at United Church in Faringdon on Wednesday evenings and Thursday mornings and evenings, said the consultants "couldn t be prouder of our members"

She said, "Throughout 2017 they have lost fantastic amounts of weight, with many of them hitting their target weights improving their health and boosting their confidence.

"It s so rewarding to see people being able to do things that they didn t think were possible before losing weight, whether that s having more energy feeling happier, wearing smaller clothes taking up new hobbies reducing medication or doing more with their family and friends.

"Every week we feel extremely lucky to play even a small part in people s achievements and we felt very honoured to represent our Slimming World groups at the awards. Cuddling up to Peter was a real treat," she added.

Mysterious Girl singer Mr Andre co-hosted the awards at the International Convention Centre with the organisation s founder and chair Margaret Miles Bramwell.

The Aussie said. "I met so many incredible people who had lost amazing amounts of weight and transformed themselves – inside and out."

"While each of them were inspirational in their own special way, the one thing they all had in common was how much they felt they owed to their 'Slimming World family' in helping them to do things they always dreamed of and become the people they ve always wanted to be. "

It has been reported that the pop heart-throb earned £30 000 for the 45 minute booking. According to the Mirror he is believed to have requested 401 items including a jar of chopped ginger a supply of booze and black hand towels

Police inquiry over student death

By Owen Hughes

AN investigation has been launched into the death of a law student who died after being "restrained" while in police custody

Nuno Cardoso, 25, collapsed in the back of a police van following his arrest on November 24

The Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC) is investigating the conduct of four Thames Valley Police officers who have been served with a misconduct notice.

The police watchdog is deciding whether the decision to transport Mr Cardoso to custody rather than seek immediate medical assistance was appropriate.

The Ruskin College student, originally from London, became "seriously unwell and died" after he was "restrained" during the course of his arrest by officers according to the police watchdog.

He was arrested on suspicion of assault following a call to the police in the early hours of the morning.

At around 5.30am, Mr Cardoso was being taken to Abingdon police station in the back of a police van when officers reported that he had become unwell.

Officers stopped the van at Redbridge Park & Ride and administered CPR to Mr Cardoso after he had passed out.

Additional officers arrived at the scene with a defibrillator but he later died after being taken to the John Radcliffe.

Gundo Liguori, IPCC Associate Commissioner said: "My thoughts are with the family and friends of Mr Cardoso and all those affected by his death.

"The investigation, which is in its very early stages, will look at the full circumstances surrounding this incident."

Investigators from the IPCC have looked at initial accounts provided by officers from the scene and will analyse footage from body-worn cameras at the time of the arrest.

Principal Paul Del Feloce of Ruskin College in Headington paid tribute to the Oxford University student last month, telling this newspaper that Mr Cardoso was a "valued student of the college" and will be "missed by all who knew him"

A 'Justice for Nuno Go Fund Me page describes Mr Cardoso as a "high spirited, caring and good natured young man" who and "strong principles and believed in justice and equality", and has so far raised almost £2,700

The police watchdog has met with Mr Cardoso's family and will provide regular updates to them and the judicial coroner throughout the investigation

A post mortem examination carried out on December 5 proved inconclusive and further tests will be carried out.

Mr Liguori added. "Anyone who witnessed the events surrounding Mr Cardoso's arrest or the medical treatment he received should contact the IPCC on 0800 029 4690."

£24m project to upgrade electric capacity under way

A £24m project to future proof Bicester and surrounding villages is under way

It comes as up to 10,000 homes and new business units are built in the town, which will take the current network to capacity

Scottish and Southern Electricity Networks (SSEN) said it had completed the groundworks – known as ducting – and the next phase will involve giant rolls of cabling being fed through and jointed.

Over the winter months 20km of cabling will be laid between Bicester and East Claydon.

The work is part of an SSEN eight-year business plan, up to 2023, to improve the "resilience of the infrastructure" that supplies areas including Arncott, Bicester, Cottisford, Headington, Upper Heyford Witney and Yarnton.

Project manager James Rooney said "Development in and around Bicester means the network bringing power to the area is reaching full capacity, so this project is essential to keep the lights on for local communities for many years to come.

"Part of these works forbides the construction of crossing points for both the HS2 and East West railway links.

"With the ducting phase now completed, we're on the next stage of feeding the cable along these ducts where they will ultimately be connected to the newly-built substation at Bicester North."

Year of special achievements in Play2Give's history: 'they were all great'

IN a year crammed with so many fun-filled cash-raising activities it is difficult for Play2Give founder Andy Baker to pick out his highlights

When asked for his top three moments, Andy, who still suffers greatly with his health following his brain injury said "Oh golly gosh I've got to pick three? Gosh that's hard as there are so many great highlights I'm seriously going to have to think on that."

After much deliberation, the 29 year old eventually came up with an answer

Andy said his favourite P2G moments of 2017 were the unveiling of the Play2Give room at the children's hospital (March) hosting a first family fun day (August) and the 10th anniversary ball (September)

After even more pondering, Andy settled on the opening of the P2G room as the most memorable moment.

The patient room was opened on Melanie's Ward, the teenage ward of the children's hospital, at a cost of £40,000—the total raised by P2G for the children over the past decade.

At the time Andy described the unveiling as 'the proudest and most special achievement in P2G's history"

He added: "It was an overwhelming moment. Quite emotional too to think we managed to raise all this money in a decade and to have a tribute given like this by the hospital to last a lifetime."

Of the £19,500 raised last year, £7,000 has gone towards opening the county's first ever state-of-the-art voluntary sector neurological physiotherapy gym at Headway Oxfordshire's Kennington base in May

The cash was also used towards Oxford Children's Hospital's £2million fundraising campaign to build a parent accommodation block at the John Radcliffe Hospital site.

The group added £12,000 towards the hospital, which will also fund new play areas and specialist medical equipment.

Andy was quick to pay tribute to the countless number of people who have helped organise or join in with many of P2G'S endeavours.

He said, "The continued love and support we receive from our local community from Didcot and beyond is just inspiring and always heart warming to see."

Play2Give marks 10 years

A phenomenal

BIG-HEARTED Andy Baker can look back on 2017 as a job well done in a year that culminated in multiple awards and all-but doubling his 10th anniversary fundraising target for Play2Give

The Didcot-based fundraising group raised nearly £20 000 as part of its 10th year celebrations, having smashed its initial £10,000 objective out of the water

Led by founder Andy, the group and its supporters have enjoyed an unforgettable year of raising much-needed cash for their two benefactors, brain injury charity Headway Oxfordshire and the Oxford Children's Hospital.

The £19 500 raised in the 12 months since P2G became our charity of the year represents the highest amount of money the group has raised in its history

Andy was the driving force behind a record-breaking year that peaked with his personal proudest moment –

Hope Spring Eternal Introduction Agency

Today's eligible single and successful men and women turn to top specialist introduction makers for the most important decision of their lives

Those who seek to achieve results in today's rapidly accelerating society understand the need to take appropriate measures to get what they want out of life. Never before has there been more emphasis on healthy relationships, family togetherness and emotional well-being as the necessary foundation leading to a road of life-long success. Yet with time as our most precious and limited resource, it has become increasingly difficult for high achievers to balance their life's work, cultural and academic activities and the time available to invest with loved ones.

With this in mind, it is easy to see and understand why today's most intelligent and successful individuals in search of their life partner are taking more care and precaution when it comes to choosing their mate. Over the years we have seen the appearance of practical methods of pairing individuals and individuals pairing themselves, from well-meaning friends and family, to singles parties, and the internet superhighway. Undoubtedly however, if you are an attractive, successful, single, relatively private and selective individual you have found that the more you have to offer the more difficult it seems to find the person who is right for you. Discerning people today want more out of their lives and their relationships. There's clearly a special focus when it comes to the selection process for finding a potential romantic companion. Change your life 2018 and let it begin with a love story.

being awarded a British Citizen Award for his non-stop fundraising.

He would also celebrate a special Outstanding Achievement Award at the ninth Didcot Business and Community Awards (HACAs) in November.

Talented footballing stars of tomorrow impressed with striking shots and fancy footwork at the customary football tournament in July with other events such as bubble football, a Monster Race complete with the hop of eternal stench as well as various walks and runs also raising cash for fantastic causes.

The bigger events of the year included the Christmas toy appeal, which donated thousands of presents to poorly children in hospital, and the 10th anniversary ball celebration in September.

Our very own production manager Peter Herring raised £500 for P2G by jumping out of a plane at 13,000ft in September, while reporter George Welch raised £300 by running in October's Oxford half marathon.

Reacting to the achievements, Andy said: "It has just been a phenomenal year for us, and as a team and I as founder, we are just incredibly overjoyed, happy and proud all in one.

"Never did I imagine 10 years ago when I set up P2G as just a single event that we would be still be going today, bigger and growing, each year.

"Our 10th year has been action packed, busy and never ending – nearly each month has been full of some form or event or endeavour."

From the Monster Race, above, to the youth football tournament and collecting a British Citizen Award, right – Andy Baker and Play2Give have enjoyed a hugely successful 2017, raising just under £20,000

Andy has no plans to slow down and the wheels are already in motion for this year's fundraising programme for causes close to his heart. Play2Give hopes to go from strength to strength in 2018 as it prepares to run the Didcot summer fayre and the return of the popular annual football tournament. But before the former St Birinus pupil charges ahead with this year's schedule, Andy reflected on a truly extraordinary 2017.

THIS year has just been absolutely incredible. P2G has had such a brilliant year; it has been our busiest, biggest and most successful ever.

For a whole 10 years P2G has been all about changing, transforming and saving lives locally.

In that time we have helped tens of thousands of people from young and old, whether its children in hospital, to those with disabilities such as brain injuries or enabling disabled children to enjoy computer games.

Each and every year since I created P2G in 2007 has been a success story – but our 10th anniversary more so than ever.

I am incredibly proud of the baby that I set up which has gone on to become an Oxfordshire institution.

And, although along the way it hasn't been easy or without its challenges, I have overcome anything to see each project or event we undertake become a success.

Our big year which saw us celebrate our milestone – a whole decade of having supported over 10 county charities over that time – was the most exciting, most amazing and most inspiring on record – and I can't thank people enough for their support.

There were so many highlights of the big year, that to pick out a single event is a difficult one.

There has literally been so many and I would like to thank each and every person who has been involved in this resounding, remarkable record, chapter of P2G which will go down in our history books forever.

StarterMotor will lend its classic cars to young people to provide practical hands-on experience in the maintenance and use of the vehicles.

Based at the former Bomber Command training base now Bicester Heritage off Buckingham Road, it hopes to encourage a "new generation of automotive fanatics'

Bicester Heritage, a business centre for classic car and aviation firms has teamed up with Activate Learning and Banbury and Bicester College's apprenticeship scheme to give students training on all things historic motoring with a direct line to employment.

Charity manager David Cox said. "StarterMotor gives students vital access into the historical car market, helping develop valuable skills and engaging with the next generation of enthusiasts."

Both the apprenticeship scheme and StarterMotor were launched in a bid to respond to a skills gap in the industry

The Federation of British Historic Vehicle Clubs identified that half of the 28 000 employees who worked in the vehicle renovation industry in 2011 are aged 45 or older, now there are 34 900 working in the industry, with an average age of 42.

Former Chiltern Railways boss Adrian Shooter chairman of StarterMotor, said. "I was lucky enough to be able to persuade my father to buy me an old Morris 8 engine to tinker with when I was 11

"That got me started on a lifetime of restoring and driving old cars, which is why I am so enthusiastic about giving young people the chance to experience the excitement for themselves."

Businesses are expected to need up to 150 apprentices a year for the next five years to protect the future of the industry which is said to be worth about £5 5bn a year

Dan Geogbegan, Bicester Heritage's managing director and StarterMotor trustee, said. "The learning curve can be transformed with genuine experience StarterMotor hands over the keys and provides the opportunity both for fun and enhanced skills."

Homeless use for empty house

AN Oxford house that has been empty since the death of its owner in 1989 will be used as temporary accommodation for homeless families

The four-bedroom house at Spencer Crescent, Rose Hill, was originally a council house until it was bought under Right to Buy in 1988 but has remained empty since the owner's death.

Oxford City Council will take ownership after it was granted a compulsory purchase order by the government

The council intends to renovate the large house before it can be used as much-needed temporary accommodation for families who find themselves homeless

Councillor Mike Rowley board member for housing, said: "Given the housing crisis in Oxford, it's a tragedy that any suitable property remains unoccupied, and it's a crying shame that we could not bring this house back into use earlier"

The property remained in the deceased owner's name as the executors of their estate have never applied for probate.

Cllr Rowley added "Compulsory purchase is absolutely the last resort.

"We would much prefer to come to agreements with owners and executors of estates to bring empty properties back into use.

"If you've got an empty property you can help us to meet housing need and alleviate the Oxford housing crisis – please speak to our Empty Residential Property Officer on 01865 252285 about how we can help you."

Centenarian dies three weeks before reaching 106th birthday

ONE of Oxfordshire's oldest residents who lived through two world wars and countless other historic events has died just three weeks shy of his 106th birthday

William Dent Robinson, who lived in Blewbury, was born on Christmas Day 1911 and was old enough to recall the celebrations at the end of The Great War

After serving in the Royal Air Force during the Second World War and taking part in the D Day landings, William returned to teaching at Didcot's St Birinus Secondary Modern School for Boys in 1946

William was a founding member of staff at the school when it was formed in 1936

He joined the former co-educational Didcot Secondary School three years before Berkshire County Council segregated the boys from the girls

Even at 105 years old, William Dent Robinson made the 270-mile trip to see family in Cumbria each summer

It was here that he met his wife Winifred Shaw before joining the RAF where he undertook wireless interception and intelligence work near the front line in Europe.

In the early 1950s William oversaw one of the country's first post war exchange visits with a German school in Bad Harzburg.

An active member of the National Union of Teachers and former deputy headmaster, William eventually retired in 1973.

William lived in Blewbury for more than 75 years where he kept his own meteorological records dating back over six decades

During his lifetime William witnessed 20 different Prime Ministers the first commercial airline flight, and was just four months old when the Titanic sank.

But as a former geography teacher who was fascinated by satellite navigation, William always said that he was most impressed by man's landing on the moon.

William died peacefully in his sleep at home on December 4 and is survived by his son Nick and daughter-in-law Linda.

Be Water Smart
There's no substitute for water.
Water is one of the only things in life that won't be replaced. You can't water your plants with honey or wash your clothes with orange juice.
As demand grows, we've doing all we can to make sure there's enough for everyone. Last year, we saved over 230 million litres of water in Oxford alone, which is enough to fill the Bodleian Library 7.5 times.
But we can't do it alone. We need your help.

Girl's gift of hearing

A ten-year old girl who was struggling to hear has been given equipment to help

Emma Church, from Chipping Norton, was diagnosed with moderate hearing loss after having difficulty hearing her alarm clock and watching TV programmes

A specialist team from Oxfordshire County Council decided to donate practical equipment to help

Following an assessment, Emma was provided with a flashing doorbell, vibrating alarm clock, and a 'Amphicomm Stethoset for the television.

Emma is now setting her alarm clock and waking up independently and using the stethoset to access the sound on the TV even when on mute.

Liz Church, Emma's mum, said. "When Emma first put on the Stethoset and was watching TV her exact words to me were 'This is the best thing that I have ever had."

Share climate views

PEOPLE are invited to have their say as Oxfordshire MPs discuss plans for climate change and transport.

Oxfordshire Climate Action Network is holding a public meeting on January 12 at the Wesley Memorial Church New Inn Hall Street Oxford, from 6 30pm to 9pm.

Anneliese Dodds (Oxford East) and Layla Moran (Oxford West and Abingdon) will be there to discuss plans to cut greenhouse gas emissions by 50 per cent by 2030

Other speakers will include Stephen Joseph from Campaign for Better Transport and a representative of the C40 global network of cities tackling climate change.

New 'super' office

A 'SUPER' office in Botley is the new home of one of the country's leading wealth management companies who cited inadequate parking as one of the main reasons for moving out of their premises on St Aldates, Oxford

Wealth manager Charles Stanley invested around £80 000 in refitting the super office, spanning 3,355 square foot or the same as about 11 London Routemaster buses

The Botley site will house 18 staff after the merger of the company's Oxford and Reading branches.

Simon Scott White, branch manager for Charles Stanley Oxford, said. "Both our Reading and Oxford offices were restricted by their locations Parking was inadequate meeting room space was restricted and neither office was ideally structured for the infrastructure implementation that our business needs today

"Our new office is located just outside of Oxford, offers great square footage, modern facilities, more meeting rooms is easier to access and closer to many of our professional colleagues."

An eye-catching stance on bike thefts

A POLICE initiative to deter bicycle thieves in Bicester has been launched after a "significant" increase in offences.

Officers have placed fluorescent coloured mountain bikes at six theft hotspots around the town to warn cyclists to be vigilant and thieves that they are being watched.

The bikes which were painted by students from the motorsport department at Banbury and Bicester College carry the message "We are watching you #TVP"

Since December 2016, 150 bikes have been stolen in Bicester

Sergeant Kerry O Leary of Bicester Police Station, said: "Following an increase in bicycle thefts in the area, these brightly coloured bikes will let potential thieves know that we take this type of crime very seriously

"We also want to advise cyclists that they can reduce the risk of becoming a victim by taking a few simple steps."

When out and about bikes should always be locked and attached to something secure, and when at home they should be locked in a shed or garage

Any removable items such as wheels and lights should not be left on the bike and bicycles should be security marked

She said. "We recommend that bicycle frames are security-marked or etched You can also register your bike with schemes such as Immobilise which helps to return stolen bikes if they are recovered."

Pets are preferred to in laws over Christmas

By George Welch

ALMOST half of pet owners would rather spend Christmas Day with their four-legged friends than their in-laws animal charity Blue Cross revealed last month.

A survey for the Burford charity found that 44 per cent of people would rather stay at home with their pet than celebrate with their in-laws, with nearly half of those aged 25-34 and 35-44 (both 49 per cent) agreeing.

Despite thoughts that Christmas is about spending time with family and friends almost a third (31 per cent) of people said they would prefer to spend the day with their pet rather than with their entire family with nearly 40 per cent of 16-24 year-olds in agreement.

Meanwhile, 41 per cent would be happier spending the day with their pet over their friends, increasing to half of 25-34 year-olds and 45 per cent of 16-24 year olds

Even partners seemed to be in the doghouse over Christmas, with 20 per cent of people saying they'd prefer to spend the day with their pet Some 31 per cent of 25-34 year-olds agreed.

The survey also highlighted that Christmas time is a period where owners choose to thoroughly spoil their pets

Half of UK pet owners said they would get their pet a Christmas present, with well over a third (38 per cent) ensuring their pets presents are nicely wrapped up

The average owner spent around £20 on gifts of toys and treats with some (three per cent) spending in excess of £50

The nation's pets were also spoilt at dinner on Christmas Day with 38 per cent enjoying a full turkey dinner

Kerry Taylor from Blue Cross said. "Christmas is a time for family and loved ones for many but our survey shows just how much our trusted four-legged friends mean to us too and how much companionship and joy they bring to our lives

"Our pets are there for us whatever the day and while plenty will be joining the whole family for celebrations, for some people their pets are the only companion or family they have."

New chapter for history of Westgate library

A LIBRARY fit for the 21st century opened its doors to eager readers.

Visitors got their first taste of the new-look facilities last month at Westgate in Oxford.

Customers eager to see the transformation of the former Central Library filed into the foyer for the ribbon-cutting ceremony performed by Oxfordshire County Council chair Zoe Patrick.

County council cabinet member for cultural services Lorraine Lindsay-Gale said. "We're underlining our commitment to libraries by putting them right at the heart of the communities they serve, and broadening the range of services and activities on offer

"Our new County Library exemplifies that investment and we believe this is a classic example of what a 21st century library should look and feel like."

The new library features a dedicated 'makerspace' area for community activities including digital learning, arts and crafts and special events With free wi-fi and 70 public computers it will also allow visitors to access county council services online and get the support they may need to do this.

The new children's library will feature more space for activities, special events and school visits

The previous library in Oxford was ranked the third busiest council-run library in the country.

Get ready for Winter

Now's the perfect time to replace your garden fence once and for all. Anna Ryder Richardson - Designer and Television Presenter - takes a closer look at Colourfence, the revolutionary low-maintenance system

It's been ten years since I regularly graced TV screens helping transform people's living spaces with MDF and stripped floorboards. Recently it's been more "celebrity muck out" than "celebrity make-over" as I took up the challenge of owning my own Wildlife Zoo in Tenby. In this time I've learnt quite a lot about fences and having researched the various options for my own benefit I thought I would share my knowledge with a wider audience.

The latest design processes mean there is now a tremendous array of fencing products for you to choose from...constructed from a variety of materials. Each has its own attributes and ultimately it can often come down to a matter of personal preference. For me there was one unique system that stood out as providing the best balance between price and functionality which eradicates fencing problems for good. Or for at least 25 years. Colourfence. For quality value, longevity, aesthetic design, this fencing system ticks all the boxes. Fencing made for the 21st century that will transform the look of your garden which is supplied and fitted by a company whose customer service is as good as the product.

In my view Colourfence is the Rolls Royce of fencing. Just without the exclusive price tag. What's more it's guaranteed to stay in place in up to 130mph winds and is virtually maintenance free.

To find out how the experts from Colourfence might help you, I suggest you call 01865 582 171 and speak to their team.

"I honestly believe that Colourfence is the best general purpose fencing product on the market today!"

Gardeners' Questions

Q Wooden fence panels just don't seem to last - is there a storm resistant alternative?

A The Colourfence system has been tested under cyclonic conditions to withstand storms with wind gusts up to 130mph. Unlike your wooden fence, once professionally installed – Colourfence really will stay up.

Q No matter what I treat my wooden fence with - nothing seems to prevent it rotting or looking shabby for very long.

A Treating your fence is a thankless and expensive task. It's also a losing battle. Wood simply wants to rot. Colourfence offers a low-maintenance alternative where by an occasional wash down will keep it looking great for up to 25 years! GUARANTEED!†

THIS WEEK'S JOB

Colourfence: The ultimate garden fence?

For many Colourfence is perhaps the ultimate choice. For the last 15 years it's been widely used across the UK and has steadily gained a reputation for its quality. By using the highest specification Colorbond steel in the fence structure itself, complemented by the highest level of customer service from accredited Franchisees, Colourfence is now regarded by many as the premier fencing solution in the market. Immune to the rot and resistant to the weather that so quickly effects wooden fences, Colourfence has none of the drawbacks of wood – plenty of additional benefits and what's more it's better value!

Head into Winter - with COLOURFENCE

The only garden fence you will ever need!

Every gardener knows that it pays to plan ahead. If you are one of the thousands of people who watched helpless, as winter winds battered their garden, it will not be a surprise that garden fences are almost always the first casualty. Whether you have previously patched, painted or simply prayed to keep your fence going, there's no escaping the fact that timber fences will always fall victim to the weather. With Colourfence you can put your garden straight once and for all. Colourfence is scientifically tested and cyclonically rated to ensure when professionally installed, it can withstand wind gusts of up to 130mph. Once it's up – it stays up and is guaranteed to look good year after year. Safe, extra secure and hassle free – you will NEVER need to paint it, treat it or patch it. An occasional hose down will be all you need do to keep it in top condition for years to come. In fact the system is so durable that Colourfence will guarantee† their fencing to last at least 25 years. Available in a range of colours to suit any garden, with or without decorative trellis, the highly skilled installation team make short work of their dramatic transformations. Your sad old fence will be efficiently cleared and replaced, leaving you to get back to enjoying your rejuvenated garden. Pricing is just as straightforward and equally attractive. Starting costs are in line with inferior timber systems but with no annual treatments required, Colourfence saves you time and money each and every year. Their aim is your peace of mind. With a 25 year guarantee† Colourfence speaks for itself and promises a lifetime of hassle-free enjoyment.

With lunch-boxes packed and Daddy Pig driving the bus Peppa and her friends are excited about their outdoor adventure

The happy campers soon settle down to sleep and listen to the gentle pitter patter of rain knowing the next morning there will be lots of muddy puddles to enjoy

Director Richard Lewis has adapted the show for the stage for the fifth consecutive time while the show features music from BAFTA award winning composer Mani Svavarsson

Richard said seeing the characters live on stage made the show special for its young audience

He said. "The children and parents who come along to see Peppa live on stage will have been following her adventures through the animated television series

"They love to see all the characters and what they get up to

"Here they have an added thrill because there in front of all their eyes are their heroes in 3D talking directly to them and inviting them to come on their adventures

"When Peppa herself walks on stage the children go absolutely wild with excitement."

Richard said he ensured something happens on stage every nine to 12 seconds to keep young children enthralled and entertained

Audiences will enjoy interactive fun songs and games with Peppa Pig and her friends

Simple steps homeowners can take now to protect their assets

Head of April King Legal Paul King explains why some homeowners are doing too little, too late to protect their hard-earned assets.

Paul King Head of April King Legal

1. Care Cost Fees

A lot of people are still unaware that if they need care in later life their assets will be means-tested by the local authority to help pay for these services This goes back to the Community Care Act 1990, which came into force in 1993.

If someone requires social care in later life, the local authority will look to use the assets of a person until they get down to a lower limit of £14,250 when the local authority will take over the fees.

Paul knows this all too well, after experiencing this personally "My own grandmother sadly passed away recently at the age of 92. My grandfather had died many years earlier and left everything to her

When she needed care in the last six years of her life because my grandfather had left everything to her, the house and all the estate were counted in the local authority's means test.

Our clients tell us, 'We've worked hard all our lives, why should the local authority get it all?'

Just as she died, she had gone down to that lower limit of £14,250 – and that's all that her children inherited."

There are many myths about the steps people can take to protect their assets from being used like this The main one is that a parent should simply sign their house over to the children now so it won't be taken into consideration for means testing. That's just not true

Local authorities will actually look to see if you've deliberately deprived yourself of an asset by giving property away going back over any period in time

Sometimes people think if the gift is made seven years prior then the house is safe.

This is not so as the seven-year rule only applies to Inheritance Tax and not local authority care.

The solution is for couples to simply not leave everything to each other in the first place.

Paul continues: "What my grandfather could have done is leave his half of the house in trust to his children, stating that they couldn't have it while his wife my grandmother was still alive We call these Property Trust Wills

If my grandfather had left his half of the house in trust to the children then when my grandmother subsequently received care in her later life she would have only been means tested on her own half of the house, but my grandfather's half would have been safe

Why should he have to contribute his half when he didn't receive any care?

The important factor is that couples need to act in advance Once one party dies or loses mental capacity through a stroke for example, they are no longer in a position to do this legitimate and straightforward type of planning

It is therefore important for couples to act now even if they may not foresee care fees being an issue."

Paul goes on to explain a further important point Most clients he sees are surprised to learn that remarriage usually cancels a will and makes the new spouse next in line to inherit ahead of their own children!

Protecting your half of the house in this way, he suggests, ensures that your children ultimately inherit when the survivor dies.

"Had my grandmother remarried after the death of my grandfather the whole estate could have passed sideways out of the family," says Paul.

It's another important reason for home-owning couples to upgrade to a Property Trust Will.

2. Bloodline Trust Wills

The majority of April King's clients have already made standard "mirror wills" with other firms before approaching the firm. A mirror will is when a couple leave everything to each other on the first death then to the children when the second partner dies But modern family life means these type of wills leave a lot to chance

Explains Paul. "If I have a mirror will leaving everything to my wife and she remarries or goes into care after my death then either the new husband or the local authority are likely to inherit most if not all of my estate ahead of my children

Even if my children are named in my mirror will it is by no means certain that they will inherit anything

Once again, this is because a remarriage would cancel the will my wife had previously made with me and make the new husband next-of-kin. This often comes as a big shock to my clients who had perhaps thought that all was in order and that the family bloodline would one day inherit.

The same is true for thinking that their children and/or grandchildren will one day benefit under a mirror will If any of your children should die leaving everything to their husband or wife and that son-in-law or daughter-in-law should then remarry then your grandchildren would be the ones to lose out under the line of inheritance

Worse still, someone else's grandchildren would be in line to receive the benefit of all your years of hard work!

I've experienced this in my own family and I'm sure most people have had similar experiences or heard of someone who has Bloodline trusts will give greater protection to your children."

Paul continues: "These things can be avoided by having a bloodline trusts will Under these types of wills your children have complete control and access to the inheritance they receive from you but give added protection from the twists and turns of modern family life The wording in these wills states that any money left over on their demise must pass to any children born of them – your grandchildren."

3. Lasting Power of Attorney

Paul explains how people often get confused thinking that, because they have made a will, their executors can also deal with assets if there is illness, stroke or some other form of incapacity while they are still alive

"Everyone should actually have two documents – a will that deals with their estate on death, and a lasting power of attorney that deals with their estate during their lifetime " he says

The lasting power of attorney is a relatively new introduction and is divided into two parts – one deals with finance, the other deals with health and welfare In many ways it's similar to a passport; a document that's registered now and one which can be physically handed to the attorneys should the need arise It allows the attorneys perhaps the children to deal with banks and pension companies etc should their parent become incapacitated, but also to deal with matters such as where the parent should be living and how they receive care. Your attorneys again perhaps your children, must legally act in your best interests at all times You can choose a number of attorneys to act, either jointly or independently and April King advises on the various options available

Couples are often surprised to discover that even joint bank accounts can be frozen until the bank sees sight of a lasting power of attorney document

Having a lasting power of attorney removes the burden on children should ill-health happen further down the line It helps a family deal with bank accounts and so on during a parent's lifetime and ceases on death. Crucially, you have to complete a lasting power of attorney while they are still in good mental health.

If someone becomes ill through say a stroke or dementia this option is lost and the family would have to apply for a order from the Court of Protection – a drawn out and expensive process It is therefore a good idea for clients to plan ahead and remove any future burden from the family

Once again, all adults should be thinking of this particularly where there are children or a business involved It's not just something to think about when you get older that's the challenge for us

People think 'I'm not ill, why do I need to make a power of attorney?'

But they're missing the point. This is a document that has to be done in advance Paul adds "The next part is to appoint the attorneys your children. Don't forget, your children can be the executors of your will and attorneys as well The lasting power of attorney remains in place until you die unless you want to cancel it. Once it's registered, you don't have to worry if you then develop some debilitating illness A burden has been removed from the family at an already difficult time."

New playing of Magic Flute

By Samantha McGregor

A BOLD new reinvention of Mozart's The Magic Flute comes to the Oxford Playhouse theatre this month

The show is brought to the city by Olivier award-winning theatre company OperaUpClose which is renowned for its English language adaptations of classic opera.

OperaUpClose returns to the Playhouse with The Magic Flute on Thursday January 11

In a modern spin on the classic tale a couple is invited behind the velvet rope at London's most exclusive club

Tamino doesn't have time to stop for beggars paparazzi or even his girlfriend Pamina

But going to bed after a blazing row later that night, this ordinary couple relive the events and encounters of the evening in dreams made extraordinary by the lateness of the hour their befuddled senses and yes a touch of magic

Following its hugely popular re-imaginings of operas including Tosca and Don Giovanni OperaUpClose has once again created a high-quality opera that is accessible for everyone and created a new perspective to view some of the world's most loved stories and music.

This new production re-invents The Magic Flute for the era of Trump

and recessions casting rays of light and love into the darkness

OperaUpClose's take on The Magic Flute combines Olivier award-nominee Glyn Maxwell's poetry Alex Beetschen's orchestration and Valentina Ceschi's theatrical creativity

In Mozart's original opera which premiered in 1791 Tamino is a handsome prince who is requested by the Queen to rescue her daughter Pamina from the high priest Sarastro

However the rescue does not go according to plan.

Tamino seeks to join Sarastro's community so he and Pamina team up to complete a series of initiation tests that lead to the Queen being defeated and new love for Tamino

Tickets for The Magic Flute at Oxford Playhouse start at £10 and are available from the Ticket Office on 01865 305305 or view oxfordplayhouse.com

Have a laugh to start new year with Lee & pals

A NEW Bicester comedy club has opened its doors and this month welcomes two big names

Lone Wolf Comedy Club based at bar The Attic, Pioneer Square will see Lee Hurst and Paul Tonkinson take to the stage on Thursday January 11 from 8pm

It will mark the third month the bar has held a comedy event, run by resident MC and stand-up comedian Andrew Bird

Andrew who has written for TV programmes including 8 out of 10 Cats does Countdown and Lee Mack's Duck Quacks Don't Echo, and worked with big names including Lee Hurst, Rhod Gilbert, Rob Brydon and Michael McIntyre, set up the new comedy night because he felt it was what "Bicester needed"

Lee Hurst who is best known for They Think It's All Over has been running his comedy venue...the Backyard Comedy Club acting as resident compere since 2000

But for the last two years he has been touring and in 2018 will head out again with his new show Mucking About.

Double award-winning Paul Tonkinson has supported Michael McIntyre as a special guest on his live shows around the UK and twice won Time Out Comedian of the Year

Welcome to Bicester Caravan and Leisure

Established over thirteen years ago we have been going from strength to strength retailing touring vans built by the UK's finest manufacturers.

With a forecourt offering a selection of over 100 new season and pre-owned caravans we have something for everyone.

20% off all awnings and furniture purchased during our Blue Cross Sale.

Never has there been a better time to enjoy ownership of a touring van, however if you're considering a new season 2018 don't hang around too long as some layouts are already seeing limited availability.

With new 5 year PCP deals and 10 year traditional Hire Purchase plans, affordability has never been so flexible.

Our "Blue Cross Sale" has started NOW with a genuine £1000 saving across ALL caravans that we have displayed on the forecourt, new season and pre-owned.

All pre-owned touring vans sold come with a comprehensive warranty and pre delivery inspection.

To compliment the caravan experience we have just opened a further two internal servicing bays, with NCC and AWS approval for warranty, body shop and servicing.

We have enhanced our storage area providing somewhere to store any caravan brought from us, this makes owning a caravan even more convenient for ease of use servicing etc and at very reasonable prices.

10% off pre-winter checks and caravan valeting during our Blue Cross Sale

The leisure, parts and accessory shop is undergoing an expansion, offering some great season sales on awnings and furniture. Come and view the latest air awnings by Kampa, Vango and Isabella.

Further enhancements with new customer toilets, sales offices and the re-launch of the Peacock Cafe. The peacock Cafe is open seven days a week offering outstanding home-made cakes, cream teas and a tasty menu, well worth a visit.

10% off all services and booked and completed during our Blue Cross Sale.

Why Do People Caravan?

People turn to caravan for lots of different reasons, some people hear from friends who caravan about the variety of types of holidays and they enjoy beach holidays (boats and abroad), boats holidays, attending events be-loon festivals, dog shows, country shows, classic car events, xmas markets. People will even venture off to the Cairngorms' up to (and beyond) most locals in blocal

And of course people will use their caravan as a support vehicle (accommodation n, refuelling and rest) for activities like running marathons, triathlons, hill walking, skiing, windsurfing even horse-trail racing. Some Caravanners are in the National Trust enjoying our heritage our great houses and parks, the picturesque and even the people things like a traditional events too.

The great thing is you can get out there to do the things you enjoy.

With a caravan it is easier to enjoy the be-ckside and the beauty of the great outdoors, you will have a easier appetite with your favourite foods and drinks tasting even better not to mention the sun-rises you will try whatever trending yourself which many people love to or finding fabulous waterfalls out and about.

With our support caravanning can be easier than you might realise. Visit us and go inside some of the caravans on display. Yo u will be blocal away.

It's about the freedom

The great thing is you can live your eventide comfort, all your blocal enjoying life, the seasons and air and the outdoors offers and at your own pace

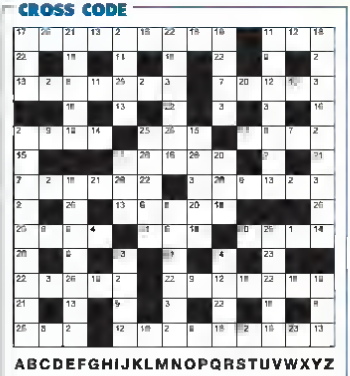
CROSS CODE



ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ

Each number in our Cross Code grid represents a different letter of the alphabet. You have three letters in the central grid to start you off. Enter them in the appropriate squares in the main grid then use your knowledge of words to work out which letters should go in the missing squares.

As you get the letters, fill in other squares with the same number in the main grid and central grid. Check off the alphabetical list of letters as you identify them.

MAGIC SQUARE

CEASES TO HAVE THEM

Using all 18 letters of the phrase above, form four words each of four letters which will fit in the grid to form a magic square in which the words can be read both horizontally and vertically

Quiz Challenge

1. Which two words begin the titles of all four of Stieg Larsson's Millennium books?
2. Who, in 1997, was the last French player to reach the men's singles final at Wimbledon?
3. Beginning life in 1863, with which fashion product would you associate Delcis?
4. The river Ganges flows through India and which other country?
5. At which British film and television studio would you find the Albert R. Broccoli 007 Stage?
6. Which batsman played a record 164 Test matches for the West Indies?
7. Which religious books used to give Lissa Apse dogs as gifts?
8. In the first verse of John Betjeman's poem Slough, what six-word line follows 'Come friendly bombs and fall on Slough'?
9. Which football manager appeared in Celebrity Big Brother 12 when Charlotte Crosby emerged as the winner?
10. In which E.M. Forster novel does an English tourist accuse a doctor of attacking her?

A	G	E
Y	E	N

How many words of four letters or more can you make from this Nonagram? Each word must use the central letter and each letter may be used only once. At least one word using all nine letters can be found.

Guidelines:
31 Good, 37 Very Good, 43 Excellent.

Any word found in the Concise Oxford Dictionary (Tenth Edition) is eligible with the following restrictions: proper nouns; plural nouns; pronouns and possessives; third person singular verbs; hyphenated/under construction and abbreviations; vulgar slang words; varied spellings of the same word (where another variant is also eligible).

WORD PYRAMID

Spell out a 15-letter word or phrase by moving from one chamber to another within the pyramid. You may only enter each of the chambers once and may only proceed through openings in the walls. The first letter may appear in any chamber.

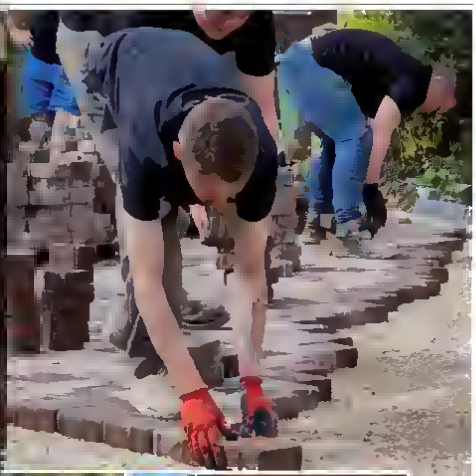
A new kind of company for a new kind of driveway



10 YEAR WARRANTY

Our promise to you:

- ✓ We're super-responsive
  Get a response in minutes not days
- ✓ No pushy salesmen
  Our sales team are all building pros
- ✓ Top-class landscape design
  Not just drawings - creative 3D visuals
- ✓ Stereotype-defying craftsmen
  With manners to match their skills
- ✓ High quality at great value
  Best materials and latest methods
- ✓ Absolute peace of mind
  We're not happy until you are

Your home is your greatest asset, and you've worked hard for it.

We know you care about the impression your home makes on your friends, your family and your neighbours, and you value quality and style.

So you need to be certain that your new driveway is designed to enhance your home, built from the finest materials and engineered to last.

Let's be honest – the driveway business doesn't enjoy the best reputation, with expensive, hard-sell national home improvement firms at one end and cheap fly-by-night operations at the other.

We think you deserve better.

So we looked closely at the problems associated with our industry and built an entirely new model.

We founded the the New Driveway Company to bring a new level of professionalism, design and customer service to the homeowners of Oxford.

Call us now and book your FREE design meeting.

Alfa Romeo Giulia 2.2 Turbo Diesel 180HP Super

'I want to run away with this new love'

By Tony Yates

For the last six months I have been waiting for the new Alfa Romeo Giulia to arrive on my driveway – and guess what? It's finally here. I'm not going to get too excited about it because it's just another car right? Actually scrub that, this is not just another car this is an Alfa and I'm very excited about it because the Giulia is probably the only car right now that I want to run away with to a remote desert island somewhere.

Maybe that was a little over the top, even for me – but just remember this is no ordinary 'Alfa Romeo'.

Right now I have that out my system I will quickly calm down and resume my normal mode for the rest of the review. But please be aware that I may at some point burst into uncontrollable rants of love and affection for the Giulia at any given time – so please, be on your guard at all times whilst reading on.

Power & efficiency

My test car was fitted with a 2,143cc 4-cylinder turbo diesel engine with 180HP. Top speed is around 143mph and 0-62 is up in 7.9 sec. Well, now we have that bit out the way – what was the engine actually like I hear you shout? Well, for a diesel, I would give it a big fat YES on all levels. Mainly because the engine pulls really well in any gear thanks to a brilliant 8-speed transmission which also just happens to offer up maximum torque figure of around 450Nm.

Where the Giulia really shines though is in its ability to return over 60mpg (combined) and CO2 emissions as low as 109 g/km, which is just staggering. The engine also feels alive and poised ready for action – exactly how a proper Alfa should feel.

On the road

The suspension is set up in such a way that it works in perfect harmony with the chassis to keep the Giulia not only flat into the corners but also controlled enough on the exit, allowing you to really feel how well all those components are working together to assure you of maximum grip at all times. Plus of course it also happens to have that all-important Alfa DNA installed at its heart which also spills out by the bucket load.

Design & technology

On the inside, the Giulia is exciting and the attention to detail on the interior finish is not only good it's breath-taking. You know this is a real driver's car the moment you sit inside. And it's good to see Alfa hasn't forgotten any of that.

The interior seating is well designed and the seats support you firmly. The cabin is also festooned by a decent amount of quality materials that will wear well for many years to come.

Legroom in the back is good for all occupants which makes my life travelling with my children a more happy affair – thanks mainly to the amount of space they had between them hunting the moans of he keeps pinching me. Like I said earlier – the Alfa is a real driver's car, and the Giulia is turning out to be something very special indeed.

Tony Yates can't hide his admiration for the new Alfa Romeo Giulia

Some of the standard equipment includes; 7" TFT colour cluster display, Alfa D.N.A driving mode selector automatic headlights, dual-zone climate control, rear parking sensors, 8 speaker audio system, cruise control, Forward Collision Warning (FCW), Integrated Brake System (IBS) and Autonomous Emergency Braking (AEB) Plus, an engine start button on the steering wheel which is very cool indeed and a nice touch.

To sum up

The Giulia is a great car. Enough said

Lining up play-off spot

By George Welch

Evo Stik round-up

A CONVINCING 3-0 home win over local rivals North Leigh lifted Didcot Town into the Evo-Stik South West play-offs

A header from captain Adam Learoyd gave the Railwaymen a half time lead before Felipe Barcelos and Marlon Agyakwa added the extras after the break.

Saturday's win, which followed Christmas draws at home to Bideford (0-0) and at another Oxfordshire side Kidlington (3-3), elevated Diddy up four places to join the play-off pack as the season tipped over the halfway stage.

The dominant result, which left Leigh in the bottom half made it just one defeat in nine matches for Town.

It was a goalless festive season for the Millers who in addition to the defeat at the hands of Didcot, lost 1-0 at Bristol Manor Farm and 2-0 at home to Evesham United.

Elsewhere in the West division, Kidlington lost ground on the top six after picking up two points from three games.

This included a disappointing 3-1 defeat at Yate Town and draws against promotion contenders Didcot and Swindon Supermarine. Their match at home to Bideford on Saturday was postponed.

But Kiddy's 1-1 draw at Marine on Monday wasn t a bad result against a side who had won four of their previous five matches

The Greens, who endured a difficult December, took the lead via an early Mark Janes goal but fell behind quickly in the second half when Ryan Campbell and Josh Parsons scored to turn the game around.

Stung by this, Kiddy clawed their way back into the game when Declan Benjamin scored a glorious equaliser from 20 yards.

Harry Whitehead was sent off for the visitors but Kiddy held on for a hard-earned point.

In the east division, Thame United shot up four places to seventh with a 3-1 New Year s Day derby win over Aylesbury United.

The set-back failed to distract Thame however and they reinstated the two-goal cushion five minutes later, West heading home his second goal of the game to send his side to within three points of the play-offs

Meanwhile, captain Ellis Hercules who has made more than 200 appearances for the club, has left south Oxfordshire for a job opportunity in New Zealand.

Happy end to 2017 for Nomads celebrating with nine goals in three games

Hellenic round-up

OXFORD City Nomads saw out 2017 in style scoring nine goals without conceding in three consecutive away fixtures

Goals from Jack Tutton and Nathan Simms sandwiched two from Jordi Mulvaney as the visitors beat Woodley in all competitions for the third time this season on December 23

An own goal from Dean March secured a 1-0 victory over Brackley Town Saints on Boxing Day and another 4-0 thumping on December 30 against Ascot United lifts the Nomads to 13th on 26 points

Bragging rights in the Vale of White Horse derby went to promotion hopefuls Wantage Town who put two past Abingdon United at Northcourt on December 23

Ben Willoughby opened the scoring for the away side before Tom Butler briefly levelled the scoring, but Jim Glover secured all three points for Wantage on 65 minutes. It would be the only time Abingdon got on the pitch over the festive period as their away trip to Fairford was postponed.

It was second in the table Thatcham Town hosting third placed Wantage Town in a hard fought 3-1 victory for the home side on Boxing Day to leave Wantage 10 points adrift of their promotion rivals. They have the chance to make amends when they take on Lydney Town after their away trip to Woodley was postponed.

It's 14th against 16th on the same match day as Abingdon travel to Ascot, while Oxford City Nomads return to action on January 13 when they visit Fairford Town.

Alan Green, Milos Silic and Michael Sidmaad celebrate their holes in one at the 15th on the sama day at the Oxford Golf Club

Hole-y unbelievable as three notch up feat

Golf

THREE amateur golfers aced a hole in one on the 15th pin on the same day at the Oxford Golf Club

Michael Sidmead, 72, and Milos Silic 51, were competing in a 'three-ball' match when they both hit holes in one just seconds apart on the 201-yard par three hole.

Milos teed off first with a six iron but as the green is in a dip, the golfers could not see how his ball ended up

Michael then struck a six iron straight at the flag and was surprised to find their two balls both nestled in the hole.

Milos, of Marston, who plays off a handicap of 10, said: "It's a bit of a blur, but we punched the air with delight, hugged and shook each other s hands."

The odds of two players acing the same hole one after the other have been calculated at more than 17 million to one, according to the National Hole in One Registry

After completing their round the pair went into the club house to enjoy the golfing tradition of buying the drinks, only to discover Alan Green, 60, from Thame, had already been lining them up, having aced the same hole earlier in the day

Alan, a builder, who also used a six iron to tee off, said: "It was my first hole in one and I've been playing 38 years."

Remarkably it was Michael's 10th hole in one since he took up the game as a youngster in 1978

Stars avoid slip up ahead of top of table clash

Ice Hockey

SIZZLING Oxford City Stars were given a reality check just before Christmas as they gear up to take on their closest challengers on Sunday

The NIHL South1 leaders welcome Bracknell Hornets who sit threateningly eight points behind with four games in hand, to Oxpens Road as they aim to make it an immense 13 wins on the bounce.

But Kenny Redmond s side were given a real fright before securing a tight 7-5 success away to Bristol Pitbulls in their only festive fixture.

The Stars have blown away five opponents with double-figured scores so far this campaign but on this occasion, they had to fight back from a 3-1 deficit after 26 minutes

Four goals inside three minutes however gave the away side a lead they would cling on to

Josh Oliver (29 & 30), Dax Hedges (30) and Kamil Kinkor (31) found the back of the net as the Stars scorched their bewildered hosts within the blink of an eye

Oliver netted his third of the afternoon just before the end of the middle period and Joe Edwards rounded off the win with a 41 03 strike.

Goals from Michael Hargreaves (2), Olly Shone (24 & 27), Matthew Thornhill (52) and Macaulay Coppock (56) ensured the tenacious Pitbulls belted their lowly position in the table.

City would make a big step towards the league title with a win against Bracknell, who overcame Guildford 5-3 on Saturday at the weekend

Face off is at 6.15pm on Sunday

Winning streak ends but boss won't blame players

By George Welch

Oxford City

A DISAPPOINTING 3-0 home defeat brought an abrupt end to Oxford City's eight match unbeaten streak, although boss Mark Jones refused to be too critical of his players

The Hoops were well beaten by Gloucester City on Monday as they chased a festive double over their fellow National League South strugglers

City who won 1-0 at Jubilee Stadium on Boxing Day were way below the high standards set since November.

Jones said. "You can accept getting beat but the manner of the defeat was disappointing.

"Fair play to Gloucester I think they deserve it but I don't think we were at the races. The goals we've conceded were poor errors – we have almost given them two goals

"We haven't been doing that kind of thing recently but it was a poor day at the office. We had a lot of below par players."

The visitors took the lead in the eighth minute via a Chris Knowles header from a wide free kick.

The Tigers added a second just before half time when Karnell Chambers intercepted Joe Oastler's pass across to Freddie Grant before chipping over the out of position Jack Stevens

The third, after half time, came in similar fashion as Ethan Moore intercepted Mo Fofana's pass back before slotting past the helpless Stevens

"You can't be too critical of the players. We've come off the back of a very positive eight weeks – that's the first league defeat since October 21

"The unbeaten run was always going to come to an end some time but the disappointing thing was the manner of the performance.

"We won't panic or hammer the players because in general the players have been very good for us over the last couple of months" Jones said.

City four points above the division's trapdoor in 19th make the short trip to Hungerford Town (14th) on Saturday and visit Havant & Waterlooville (2nd) on Tuesday

The young U's will not progress to the fourth round of the FA Youth Cup after a 3-0 loss to the Daggers on December 21

Daggers cut through United defence

FA Youth Cup

OXFORD United lacked a cutting edge as they bowed out of the FA Youth Cup 3-0 to Dagenham and Redbridge at Court Place Farm.

Sharp finishing from the Daggers put them in front on the half hour mark when Luke Hirst flashed the ball across keeper Max Evans to open the scoring.

United had come from behind in the previous two rounds and the young U's had their fair share of goalscoring opportunities in the opening 45 minutes, but the tie was all but over three minutes into the second half.

A slice of luck saw Dylan Florence's deflected 20-yard effort loop over a stranded Evans to put the visitors 2-0 up.

The affair had a true cup tie feeling about it with plenty of yellow cards and flying challenges culminating in a red card for Aaron McCreadie for pulling down Florence in the box.

The youngster duly stepped up and added another from the spot with 16 minutes to go

The result means United miss out on a tie away to Ipswich Town in the next round.

The U's will play Cheltenham Town when the EFL Youth Alliance Under 18 South West returns to action on Saturday

Puritans boss signs up to end of 2018/19

BANBURY United manager Mike Ford has signed a new contract keeping him at the club until the end of next season.

Chairman Phil Lines said the board are "delighted" Ford has agreed to the year's extension.

He said "He has done an excellent job over the course of the last two and a half years – we have a lot to look forward to and I am convinced that we are in very good hands"

Ford was equally pleased to extend his stay "The club is already in a good position but wants to move forward and I am delighted that the board want me to be a part of that process

"I had no hesitation in signing the contract extension and I am looking forward to continuing the work that we have started here at Banbury United"

Coach to share experience with U18s

FORMER Yellow Chris Hackett will help coach the Under 18 squad after receiving a promotion to the youth team's backroom staff

The former winger has taken on the role of personal development plan coach, replacing Andy Wing as the man to assist boss Leon Blackmore-Such with the youngsters

Born and bred in Oxford, Hackett is a familiar figure to most U's fans having graduated through the youth system at the club before making nearly 150 first team appearances

As well as his hometown club Hackett's playing career took him to Hearts in Scotland, Millwall and Northampton Town before hanging up his boots in 2016

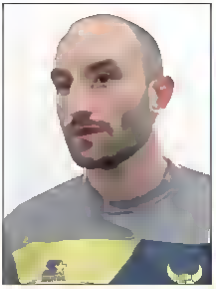
Since then he has been coaching United's Under-15s side and he will now step up to join Blackmore-Such in coaching United's Under 18s

When the club announced the appointment last month, Hackett, who scored nine goals in 142 appearances in Yellow between 1999 and 2006 said he "couldn't be happier"

"I have enjoyed working with the Under-15s and it was hard to tell them that I was stepping up to the youth team, but it is such an exciting opportunity," the 34 year-old said.

"I have seen the scholars this year and they are a great group so if I can pass on some of my experience and ideas and help them become even better players then that would be fantastic."

Hackett replaced fellow former U's player Wing, who joined Kidderminster Harriers as Under-23 boss in September



Chris Hackett will help coach the Under 18s

Young midfielder given contract extension

Shandon Baptiste will stay at United until the end of next season

YOUNGSTER Shandon Baptiste has agreed a new contract with Oxford United that will keep him at the club at least until the end of next season, ahead of joining Hampton & Richmond Borough on loan

The 19 year old, who made his U's debut at Stevenage in August, initially signed a six month contract last summer but that has now been extended to the summer of 2019, with a club option to extend for a further year

Having completed the paperwork just before Christmas, Baptiste who has made two United appearances is now on a one-month youth loan at title-chasing National League South side Hampton & Richmond Borough

The hot prospect has started all three matches so far, including a draw at Oxford City on December 23

Fellow youngster Malachi Napa, who also extended his contract to 2019 in November, spent time at Hampton earlier in the season

Baptiste, a former Reading youth player who moved to the UK when he was three, made his international debut for Grenada in a 5-0 hammering by Panama in October last year

U's start new year with win after festive season misery

By George Welch

MANAGER Pep Clotet praised his players' attitudes after putting a troublesome Christmas period behind them and opening the new year with a pressure-relieving win.

Monday's 3-1 victory over MK Dons halted a four-match winless run as the U's bounced back from a painful holiday season, which included a 7-0 defeat to Wigan Athletic – the club's heaviest ever league home defeat.

A 1-1 draw and a 3-2 defeat at Gillingham and Bradford City respectively followed before Clotet's men mustered the much needed win over MK, who were fresh from beating promotion hopefuls Peterborough United 1-0 with nine men.

First half goals from Wes Thomas and Gino van Kessel and a second half strike from Jon Obika earned Oxford, who had left back Ricardinho sent off in the final 10 minutes, three goals and three points.

Dons skipper Alex Gilbey levelled the scores midway through the first half but the Buckinghamshire side never looked like getting back into it once Obika netted his sixth of the season on the hour mark.

Afterwards a relieved Clotet said: "It was a very professional performance and the players showed a great attitude.

"There was a lot of joy in the stadium and that's what we want to see.

"We haven't produced a performance in some of the last few games but when you see what we did today it is a big step forward and for us it was like putting what happened behind us.

"We dominated the challenges and were very organised defensively, that's something we have been working very hard on in the last few days, especially after the Wigan game.

"A lot of the mistakes we made in that game were cut out today and obviously we attacked with extra determination and found the spaces very well."

Top scorer Thomas, who netted for the first time in six games and Obika both scored as United's more traditional 4-4-2 shape started to bear fruit.

"Today I think the players showed that they are giving everything for this club," Clotet added.

United, who moved up to 10th with the win, are six points off the play-offs and eight points clear of the relegation zone.

They host Blackpool (13th) on Saturday before travelling to Charlton Athletic in the Checkatrade Trophy third round on Tuesday.
